One Last Look Back

WE watch the years as they go by -

WE stand and wait and wonder why,

They passed so slow and yet so fast -

One last look back, upon my past . . .

Pep rallies, float meetings, football games -

Seeing old faces, remembering new names,

Many good times, filled with laughter and tears -

One last look back over the years . . .

Homecoming parades, courts, and queens -

The winning float, and what it means,

To all the students whose hard work pays -

One last look back on happy days . . .

Homework that's given, seems never to end -

Still teachers become our lasting friends,

Friends in times of sunshine and showers -

One last look back on busy hours . . .

The buildings are old, but dear to us all,

The between-class meetings we held in the hall -

The councils, the clubs, finding the fame one seeks,

One last look back over fleeting weeks . . .

As we walk down the aisle, narrow and long -

We think of our dreams, some right some wrong,

We accept our diplomas, with happy quiet tears -

With our last look back on twelve great years.

Spirit Dedication

1977

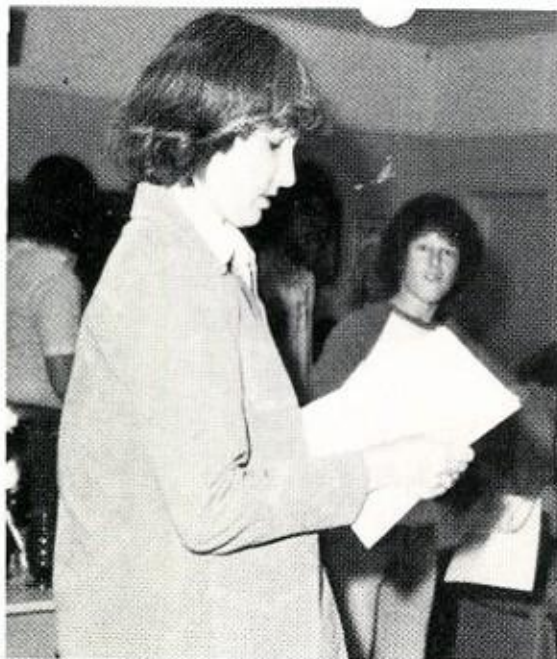

The senior members of the Annual Staff take pride in dedicating the 1977 Spirit to a devoted teacher, friend, and sponsor. This person has seen the senior class of 1977 through many good times and many disappointments. This individual has helped us grow from weak to strong. This person has sacrificed many long, hard hours which were full of joy, laughter, and work.

The words to describe this teacher are innumerable. She has given us the encouragement to face the challenge of the future. She has inspired us to work harder. There's a certainty in this person who is not afraid to share herself with others, she is unafraid of getting involved in the candid life of a student. She has guided us and shown us the true meaning of sportsmanship. Her enthusiastic support of school activities and her respect for past and present history reflect her unique personality. To her we dedicate the Spirit of 1977 in an attempt to return some of the loyalty and love she first gave to us. The Spirit is proudly dedicated to Mrs. Judy Hall.

"With each step the smile grows bigger."

"Stogsdill, how many times do I have to tell you not to turn in blank sheets of paper."

"Oh, no all the kids showed up for class today . . ."

"Eagerly Mrs. Hall waits for an answer to her question."

"Here we see her reaction to the answer to her question . . ."

"Mrs. Hall we know you're happy but please don't break my ribs . . ."

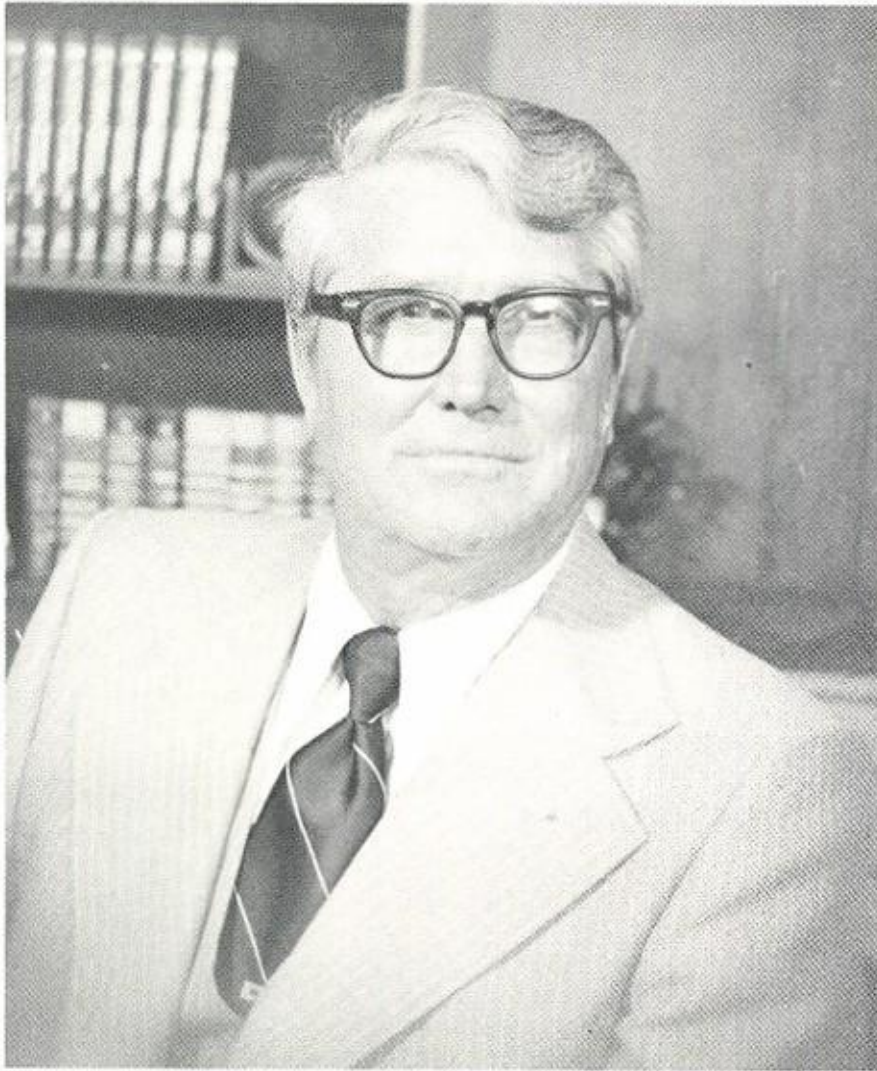

"In a very charming way Mrs. Hall thanks the annual staff for this honor."

"Mrs. Griffen presents our hero with a congratulatory gift as Teacher of the Year."

"A Very Special Person"

Senior members of the annual staff would like to pay special recognition to someone who is very dedicated to Seagoville High School. His loving heart, loyal friendship, and warm personality has been admired greatly by students as well as faculty members.

The dedication which he has shown and the spirit which he has promoted among us will be well remembered and appreciated by the Senior Class of 1977.

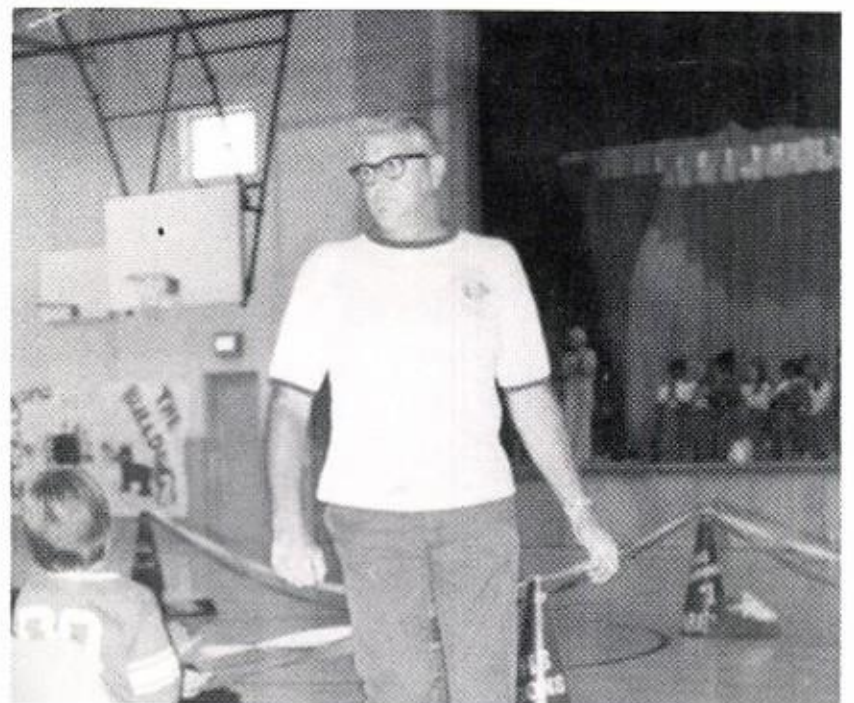

This man is always near with an understanding smile and a loud friendly greeting. He knows the joys of winning and the disappointments of losing. He has the ability to encourage boys and girls to work together and to do their best. He does this and is still considered to be their friend.

Mr. Bill Patrick

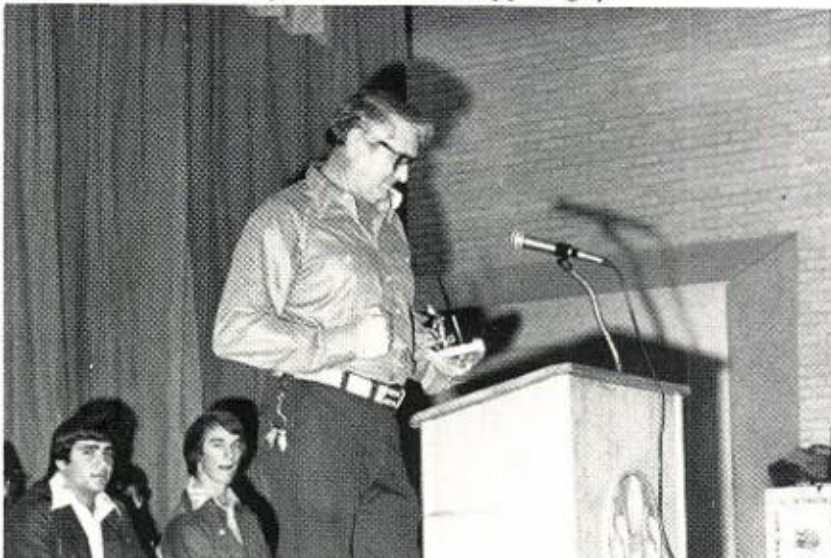

Therefore, with great pride, the Senior members of the SPIRIT staff would like to show special recognition to:

"Did you ever see a happier guy?"

"Someone must be picking on one of his 'babies'."

"At a complete loss of words . . ."

"A truly appreciative person . . ."

"Seagoville High School's answer to the White House Oval Office."

Dear Students:

Your education, whether in school or out is just beginning. It is a process that will continue throughout your lives. Choose wisely in the decisions which you make, for each will help fashion your most priceless possession, your character.

Remember, too, that every man and woman dreams of doing some great and good deeds. We dream of the big things and often fail to do the little things. Try to do some of the little things we can do each day to make the world a more joyous place in which to live. Finally, may I wish each of you the happiness and satisfaction for which you seek.

Dear Seagoville School Community:

I will be forever grateful for the opportunity afforded to me in working with the parents, students, faculty, and patrons of this community. I do appreciate the cooperation that you have given me in striving to train our children to become and be upright, law-abiding and self-productive citizens. It is hoped that as we grow to maturity, our deeds and actions will be so circumscribed that others will want to follow in our footsteps.

To the graduating seniors, may I admonish each of you to continue to build a solid foundation for the future in order that you may enjoy the many pleasures of living.

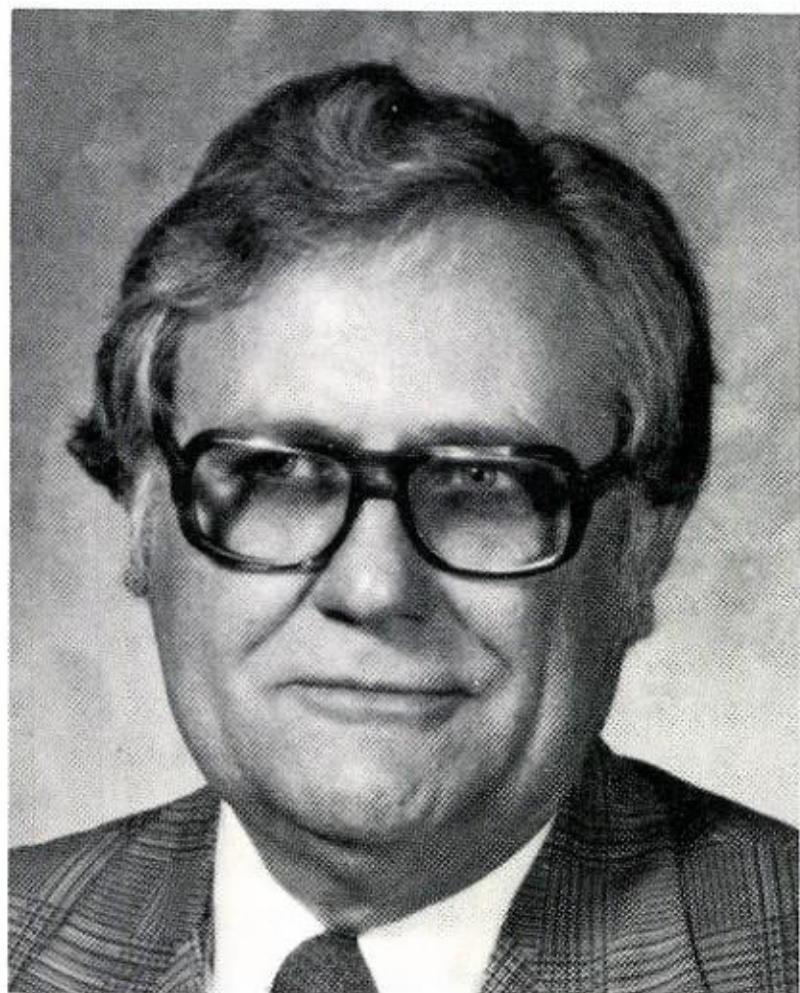

Yours truly,

Stacy T. Mosley, Jr.

Students:

We at Seagoville have much to look forward to in the near future. We can be grateful for the new schools that will soon be constructed and these buildings will add to future education in this community. Let's all pull together - teachers, administrators, students, parents and the community - to make Seagoville truly number one in all respects.

Sincerely,

We the SENIOR members of the Seadragon Swim Team want to thank Coach Irby for his leadership and inspiration during the years we have known him. The interest that he has taken in us and our achievements will always be remembered. His dedication and devotion is a rare quality found among few, and we feel fortunate to have been coached by such a man. He has taken a group of individuals and formed them into a closely knit team. Hours of hard work have now paid off and we leave him with a ZONE CHAMPIONSHIP and an undefeated record of 18-0. In conclusion, we would like to thank him for placing value on each of us and for building confidence and self-discipline within ourselves. We respect him and will never forget him or the time and devotion he has given us throughout our high school years.

"Mr. Jones works while Bonner poses . . ."

"Was that a typewriter that hit the floor???"

"I have these records up to date and accurate . . ."

"I'm glad she's so accurate . . . I keep trying."

"Who cares . . . I know where all my books are."

"Nurse Nightingale checks the pressure of a worried student."

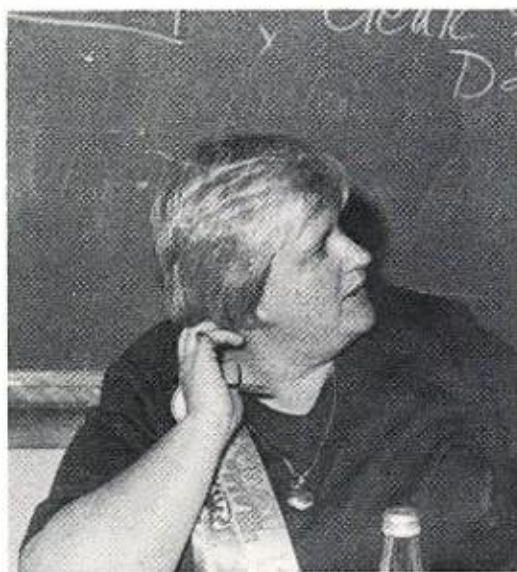

"Does she check out teachers, too?"

"What do you mean I get an unexcused tardy?"

"Hi folks . . . I'm Faye . . . aren't I precious . . ."

"Only a New London graduate would say that."

"I don't agree . . . I'm cure and I'm from Seagoville . . ."
